

Confers On East Tension

Lodge Arrives, Talks To Nhu, Police Leader

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge conferred for more than two hours today with Ngo Dinh Nhu, the influential younger brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem, on South Viet Nam's political-religious crisis.

They met at the request of Nhu, who heads the secret police.

Whatever the trend of the discussion, there were indications the strict army rule of Saigon was relaxing, even though the people were warned soldiers have orders to shoot into any illegal gathering.

Continued tension was reflected in postponement of a National Assembly election scheduled for Saturday. The official Viet Nam press agency announced in a broadcast dispatch Diem has ordered the election put off until further notice.

Relaxation of martial law was suggested by lifting of the Saigon curfew and according to the Viet Nam press, in some provincial towns.

Barbed wire barricades were removed from the downtown area where Saigon University's faculties of law, medicine and pharmacy are situated. Teachers were notified that schools and universities, closed last weekend, may reopen soon.

Civilian censors supplanted military censors in processing news dispatches relayed abroad.

But there were increased troop concentrations in downtown Saigon.

Lodge presented his credentials to Diem Monday and conferred twice with the president. He carried a note from President Kennedy spelling out U.S. views of the Vietnamese crisis.

Lodge arrived in Saigon Thursday and replaced Frederick E. Nolting, who resigned as ambassador.

Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh, Saigon's military governor, moved swiftly to prevent mass uprisings. He ordered security forces to shoot into "any group of trouble-makers who violate the state of martial law" imposed Wednesday. Government spokesmen said the military was acting under orders from Diem.

Clearly referring to the arrest of 3,000 university students as they gathered Sunday for a demonstration, Gen. Dinh asked parents to advise their children "not to indulge in any illegal action which may bring about disastrous consequences."

Living Cost Record High Is Reached

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living rose in July by one half of one per cent to a record high for the second consecutive month, the Labor Department reported today.

With food and gasoline leading the way, prices advanced for most major types of goods and services.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the July consumer price index was 107.1, compared to the 1957-59 base of 100.

This means it cost $10.71 in July to buy the same items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period.

The July index standing was 1.5 per cent above a year ago, primarily, the bureau said, because of higher prices for food, housing, medical care and tobacco.

The July increase was the biggest since September of last year. Despite this, Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the bureau, characterized the over-all situation of the past year as "reasonably stable."

As a result of the July cost increase, living allowances based on quarterly reviews were increased by 1 to 3 cents an hour for about 1,250,000 workers, primarily in the automotive, aerospace, and the farm and construction equipment industries. Of these 775,000 will receive a 2-cent an hour increase in the automotive industry.

Increases for 25,000 other workers, largely in the trucking and cartage industry, will range from 1 to 8 cents. Sixteen thousand employees will receive 2.5 to 4.5 cents an hour based on reviews of city indexes.

Mayor To Introduce Bond Issue

Invites Members Of the Committee To Special Seats

Mayor L. L. Studer, in a move to introduce the upcoming sewer bond issue for Sedalia, has invited members of the sewer bond committee to sit in a special section of the Council Chambers at the Sept. 3 Council meeting.

At this meeting the story of the need for improved sewers will be explained to the committee and the public.

In a communication to committee members today, the Mayor said:

"At our regular City Council meeting at 7:30 p.m., on Tuesday, Sept. 3, the two (2) front rows of the right side of the Council Chambers will be reserved for the members of the Sewer Bond Citizens Committee, composed of the 14 public-spirited citizens who have graciously consented to serve as members of this Committee."

"The firm of Burns & McDonnell, Consulting Engineers, on this occasion will make a formal public presentation of the Sewer Project Document to this Committee, News Media, and the public."

"The story that will be unfolded by the Consulting Engineers at this time, and which will also later be unfolded to the public by the representatives of the Missouri State Water Pollution Board, will not be a pleasant story."

"It will be filled with all of the facts about our grossly overloaded sewage disposal plants and the facilities related thereto, and whether we like it or not, the story, with all of its implications, needs to be frankly unfolded so that the public will be properly informed and advised that a continuation of the prevailing impossible situation with respect to our sewer facilities, will adversely affect the economy of the entire community that all of us love so well."

Tension Grows

Pledges a Calm, Dignified March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders continued to pledge calm and dignity for their massive civil rights march on Washington Wednesday. But apprehension still hung in the air—about transportation, about the uncertainty of numbers, about an unexpected spark of violence.

The railroad unions have set a nationwide strike for midnight Wednesday night if new work rules go into effect then. It is a strike that could leave thousands of weary demonstrators stranded and milling in Washington.

Congress was set today to continue its try at legislation that would prevent the strike.

The uncertainty about numbers was accentuated early today when a spokesman for the march headquarters, Sy Posner, reported that about 2,000 of the persons around the country who had planned to join in the demonstration were having financial difficulties and would not be able to come to the capital.

Posner said the Southern Christian Leadership Conference led by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. had sent about $2,000 to its headquarters in Atlanta to help cover the transportation costs of 200 marchers from Albany, Ga., and 100 from Savannah, Ga.

Police, meanwhile, prepared to cope with the massive crowds, but they still were not sure just how many people trains, planes, buses and cars would stream into the city for the march.

Two Killed In Accidents By Tractors

Tractor accidents claimed the lives of two Saline Countians, Monday and early Tuesday.

A 15-year-old boy Russell James Stuerke, who would have begun his sophomore year Tuesday morning at Sweet Springs High School, was killed while feeding cattle between 5:15 and 6:15 a.m. before school opened.

Stuerke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Stuerke, north of Sweet Springs, left at 5:15 a.m. Tuesday for the feed lot on the neighboring farm of William Weisenburger, who farms in partnership with Waldon Stuerke. When the boy did not return by 6:15 a.m., his father went to the lot and found him pinned under the tractor. Moseley Funeral Home, Sweet Springs, was called and the boy was taken there. Dr. C. L. Lawless, coroner for Saline County, made an investigation.

Surviving are the parents, one sister, Diane Elaine and one brother, Douglas Ray, of the home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Senegs; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Stuerke, all of Sweet Springs.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Another Saline Countian met death in a tractor accident Monday afternoon. Robert McClellan Kitchen, 53, Rural Slater, was reported found pinned under a tractor at 3:50 p.m. Monday. Bill Brummitt reported the incident to Saline County Sheriff Steve Rimmer, who went to the Kitchen farm. He found the body under the tractor in the lower portion of a hollow on the farm near where Kitchen had been spreading commercial fertilizer.

Estus Croka, Marshall, had discovered the body at approximately 3:15 p.m., when he returned to the field to resume bulldozing, after doing work at an unoccupied house on the property. He told Rimmer that he investigated when he didn't see Kitchen or hear the tractor and saw the tractor with its wheels in the air and found Kitchen pinned. Croka informed Brummitt who called the sheriff.

Rimmer arrived at the farm at 4:25 p.m. and the men pulled the tractor away from the body with the bulldozer. Acting as coroner at the request of Dr. C. L. Lawless, Rimmer pronounced Kitchen dead. There will be no inquest.

The body was taken to Hanes Funeral Home, Slater. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, awaiting arrival of Gerald Lee Kitchen, a son, stationed on a destroyer in the Pacific, who is being flown to the mainland.

Other survivors are the wife, Lizzie of the home and another son, Roland Kitchen, Slater.

Action To Avoid Rail Strike Plan

Asks Railroads To Delay Imposition Of New Work Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic and Republican leaders today called on the railroads to delay imposition of new work rules so that Congress can act on legislation to avoid a nationwide strike.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, made the plea 36 hours before the early Thursday deadline for putting into effect the rules which the unions have said would bring an immediate walkout.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois urged that Mansfield's plea be heeded.

Mansfield said in a Senate speech that he was sure Congress would pass a bill promptly. He had told newsmen before the Senate convened, however, that he did not think the Senate could pass the measure today.

This raised a possibility that the bill could not become law by the deadline. House leaders have said they would not take up the legislation until the Senate acted.

Pending in the Senate is a bill to require binding arbitration of the major issues in the dispute.

Mansfield said that in view of the fact Congress is now struggling with the problem, "the national responsibilities of both carriers and unions are clear and it is incumbent upon both to accept them."

"The Senate and the Congress will legislate as fairly and as promptly as possible. But the Senate will not legislate under pressure."

Dirksen said that experience had shown that any attempt to ram through a bill under intense pressure led to faulty legislation.

Through the morning, both railroad management and the unions had been going ahead with planning on the basis that a shutdown was to be expected early Thursday.

The railroads announced an embargo on acceptance of freight effective at 12:01 a.m. Thursday. A spokesman said some individual railroads would decline to accept freight at earlier times.

A union spokesman said that a strike headquarters would be set up at Cleveland, Ohio. He said this would be for all five unions.

Masked Men Rob Cemetery Caretaker

Two masked men boldly robbed a cemetery caretaker of $135 as he mowed grass Monday at Prairie View Cemetery, six miles north of Versailles.

The caretaker, Jim Salmons, told Morgan County Sheriff J. T. Hull that the pair were 17 to 18 years of age, wore black masks, took his money at gunpoint and then fled in a shiny black 1953 Ford.

The cemetery is located at the junction of Highway 5 and Route HH and the car sped south on Highway 5. Only one of the men carried a gun.

A sheriff's deputy said Tuesday morning that a check is being run on cars answering the description.

Rescue Climaxes Drama Of Two Weeks In Mine

HAZELTON, Pa. (AP) — Joking and singing all the way, Henry Throne and David Fellin were lifted to the surface today unharmed in a safety harness from more than 300 feet underground where a mine cave-in trapped them 14 days ago.

The rescue climaxed a drama that caught world-wide attention: a drama mixed with faith, courage, frustration and the heart-warming stream of good humor that flowed constantly from Throne and Fellin.

Jolt Senate Sponsor Of Test Treaty

Like Issues a Call For Anti-Agression Provision To Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has jolted Senate sponsors of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty with a call for an anti-aggression reservation to the pact.

But Democratic leaders got immediate Republican help in an effort to comply with the five-star general's proposal without having to renegotiate the Moscow-signed treaty.

Eisenhower wants the United States to reserve the right to use nuclear weapons to halt any aggression involving its vital interests.

He endorsed the treaty Monday in a letter to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But the former president said he had one reservation in mind.

"The reservation that I suggest would provide that in the event of any armed aggression endangering a vital interest of the United States this nation would be the sole judge of the kind and type of weaponry and equipment it would employ as well as the time of their use," Eisenhower wrote.

Some witnesses have expressed the fear that the treaty would bar the United States from furnishing nuclear weapons to an ally under attack.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters that this proposal—one of the reservations previously suggested by Adm. Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission—already is "inherent in the treaty."

Would Ask System Of Inspections

Expresses Fear Reds May Cheat On A-Test Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, urged senators today to demand some system of verification or limited inspection of Soviet nuclear facilities before they ratify the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

He expressed fear Russia might cheat.

Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, who was White House science adviser to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, testified he endorsed the treaty without "the slightest reservation."

Eisenhower urged Monday that the Senate attach a reservation to its approval of the treaty. He said this country should specifically reserve the right to use nuclear weapons to halt any aggression involving its vital interests.

Treaty supporters contend the pact would not limit any wartime use of nuclear weapons, and say no such reservation is needed.

Kistiakowsky said under questioning he was not qualified to testify on legal points raised by Eisenhower "but from the weapons point of view I see no need for a reservation."

Kistiakowsky testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, while Burke appeared at a closed session of a Senate armed services subcommittee. A copy of his statement was made available to newsmen.

Burke suggested that this country and the Soviets dismantle existing nuclear testing sites or agree upon some limited inspection plan, such as Eisenhower's "Open Skies" inspection proposal, which the Soviets rejected when it was made in 1955.

Although urging reservations and predicting that Russia will cheat, Burke said:

"It looks as if this treaty will be ratified in the near future. I have grave misgivings as to whether this will be a step toward peace or a step toward decreasing the security of the United States."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., proposed meanwhile that withdrawal of Soviet troops from Cuba and leveling of the Berlin Wall be made the price of ratifications of the treaty.

Four Hurt In One-Car Crash Here

Four persons were injured in a one-car accident near the Sedalia Water Works pumping station about 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The automobile driven by Roy Vaughn, 24, of 310 Lawndale St., Kansas City, a former Sedalian, was extensively damaged.

Injured were Vaughn who suffered laceration of the chin and right knee bruised.

Doralee A. Voss, 25, of Washington, Mo., a fractured right arm, laceration of both knees, severe scalp laceration.

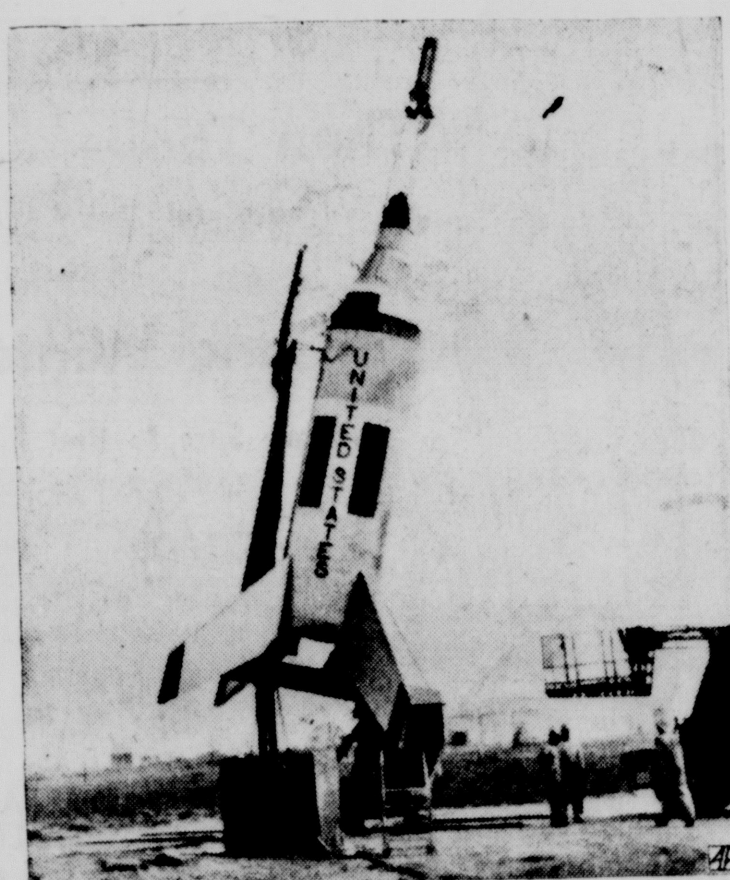

Betty Ann Siedhoff, 24, of Washington, Mo., who complained of strained muscles of the back and chest.

The four were treated by Dr. Ira White and Dr. Elliott Braverman. Miss Voss was admitted to the hospital for observation.

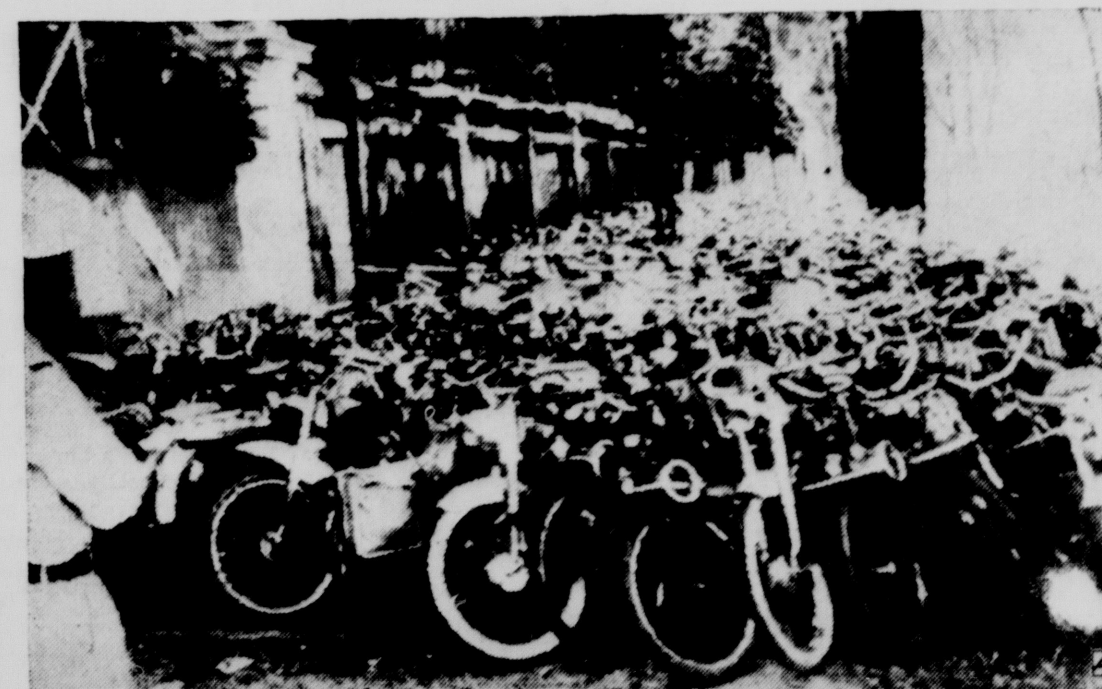

According to Trooper Joos, of the State Highway Patrol, Vaughn was driving a 1960 Ford convertible and headed north on the Water Works road and as he entered the Covered Bridge and in coming out of it lost control of the machine. It skidded approximately 135 feet on the blacktop road before leaving the roadway on the wrong side of the road, going down an embankment, and traveling approximately 350 feet missing several large trees before striking a rock wall and rock post at the entrance of the Water Works pumping station property.

Vaughn was given a Patrol summons for careless and imprudent driving to appear before Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong.

Ready for Flight

TEST FOR APOLLO MOONSHOT—Tilted at an angle of 85 degrees, a dummy payload — the same size as the Apollo command section and escape towers—rests atop a Little Joe II launch vehicle in preparation for start of flight tests, probably this week. The Apollo program aims to carry three men to the area of the moon, land two of them on the surface, and return all three safely to earth. The conical-shaped steel dummy Apollo payload consists of a command section — 154 inches in diameter at the base and 126 inches long—and a tower 33 feet high. The two-section launch vehicle for the tests at White Sands, N.M., is 29 feet tall and about 13 feet in diameter. (NASA Photo via AP Wirephoto)

The Missouri Pacific passenger station was broken into by a thief or thieves sometime between 9 p.m. and midnight Monday night. The robbery was discovered about 11:58 o'clock by John Herbst, ticket agent, when he reported to duty.

The thief first tore two screens off of two windows on the west end of the building, then one on the north side leading into the women's rest room, entered, but failed to gain entrance to the office. Then a window to a small office leading to the waiting room and ticket agent office, was ripped off and entrance gained there.

Air Search Under Way In Mid-Missouri Area

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. (AP)—An air search was under way between Stover and Wesco, Mo., today for two paratroopers overdue on a flight to Ft. Campbell, Ky.

The Cessna 140 in which the two—Sgt. Victor A. Berg, 25, and Spec. 4 Joseph W. Keleman, 21, members of the 501st Airborne Battle Group at Ft. Campbell—were flying last was heard from Sunday night.

At that time the men radioed the FAA tower at Vichy, Mo., from near Farmington, Mo.

Army and Civil Air Patrol planes joined in the search between Stover and Wesco. Two CAP ground units were stationed at Iberia and were in contact with the search planes.

The men were believed to have taken off from either Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base at Grandview, Mo., or the State Line Airport near Kansas City. (No pickup)

To Stop Accepting Freight Before Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The railroads, confronted with the possibility of a nationwide strike Thursday, said today that most lines will stop accepting freight before the strike deadline.

Also, railroad spokesmen said, most lines will not schedule passenger trains which would be unable to reach their final destination before the strike begins.

The railroads have announced that they will put the new job-cutting work rules into effect at midnight Wednesday and the five operating unions have said they will strike when the rules go into effect. It appears doubtful that Congress can enact before that hour legislation to head off a strike.

Otter Finally Makes Good His Escape

If you notice a dark brown, weasel-like animal about three feet in length swimming in an area stream, telephone the Conservation Commission building on the Missouri State Fairgrounds at TA 6-5224.

The animal is an otter, he's an escapee and the commission employees want him back.

The otter's dexterity at escaping finally paid off overnight Monday. Don Goodman, a commission employee, said the otter got out of his cage three times during the fair, but was rounded up each time. Monday night he worked loose a wire on a trap door near his pool and fled. He was not discovered missing until 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Goodman said the animal weighs about 30 pounds, is whiskered and prefers free flowing streams to pools or ponds.

The otter was among animals exhibited by the commission during the state fair. Most of the animals have been taken to Springfield and some were sent to Bethany, Mo. Tuesday for exhibition at a fair there.

Interesting Report To Rotarians

Miss Sharon Deck and Roger McClung, Sedalia Rotary Club-sponsored delegates to Missouri Girl's State and Boy's State, respectively, gave interesting reports on their experiences at the regular Monday noon meeting of the club at Hotel Bothwell.

Miss Deck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Deck and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Deck, reported that the slogan for Girl's State, held at Stephens College, Columbia, was, "Educate our youth in duties, rights, and privileges of American citizenship."

She told of the intensive study of our city, county and state governments. The girls were divided into two party groups—the nationalists and federalists. She was first elected city clerk on the Federalist ticket and was later elected state representative and forfeited her city clerk's position. In addition she was elected to the state party conventions.

Her study of government extended from city ward to state level. One of the highlights of Girl's State, according to Miss Deck, was a visit and talk before the group by Governor John M. Dalton.

McClung, son of Rotarian and Mrs. Elmer McClung, reported the theme of Boy's State was, "Democracy depends on me." More than 600 young men from throughout Missouri attended the week-long meeting at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg.

At Boy's State, too, the young men were divided into members of two political parties—the nationalists and federalists. McClung was a federalist and was elected a representative to the state party convention which developed the party platform. Because he selected the study of law for his specialty, McClung was appointed city attorney, and in that capacity he prosecuted several sample cases.

Keith Yount, immediate past president, presided over the meeting in the absence of Harry Welch, who was attending a Rotary Institute meeting at Buffalo, Mo. With Welch were Omer West, vice-president and John Zulaut.

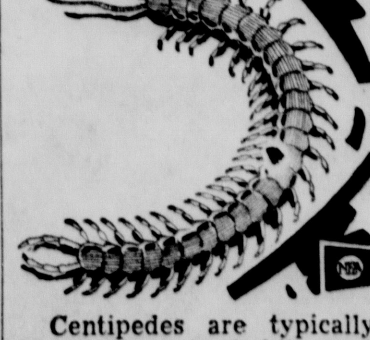

D. S. Lamm called attention to the Rotary Club Assembly to be held Tuesday evening at Bothwell Lodge. Lamm will conduct a tour of the Lodge preceding the assembly and he asked that those taking the tour be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Jake Deck and Mrs. Billy Deck were guests of Rotarian Jake Deck. They were introduced by Oscar DeWolf.

Ralph Walker, August program chairman, presented the speakers. Dr. Roy Keller gave the invocation. James Denny, accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox at the piano, led in group singing.

Accidents

Miss Judy Poe, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Poe, Tipton, received treatment at the Bothwell Hospital, Monday night for injuries received in a one car accident. Although painful, her condition was not believed serious.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Norma Knipp, 16, also of Tipton, which struck a pole.

It was reported the two girls were riding in a Rambler Station wagon, and as the car turned it went out of control and hit the pole. Extensive damage resulted to the car, and Miss Poe was thrown forward striking the dash and windshield.

She received severe lacerations on the face, one on the forehead the other on the cheek. She was treated by Dr. A. L. Lowe who had her admitted to the hospital for observation.

The girl accompanied by her mother was brought to the Bothwell hospital in the Conn ambulance from Tipton.

Terry Joe Fowler, 218 East Boonville, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Monday evening for an injury to the left forehead he received in a fall. He was treated by Dr. K. L. Holdren, then released.

Paul Cason, 517 West Jefferson, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday evening for an injury to the head he received when he slipped on the diving board at the swimming pool.

Two cars were damaged in a minor accident at Broadway and Sneed at 11:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Involved, according to police, were a 1959 Dodge, driven by Carol Nadine Klein, 27, 2725 South Grand, and a 1956 DeSoto, driven by Rudolph C. Borup, 61, Tulsa, Okla. Both cars were westbound on Broadway.

The rear trunk lid and bumper of the Klein car and the front grill and right front of the Borup car were damaged.

A parked truck, which apparently did not have its brakes set, was involved in a minor accident in a parking lot in the 2400 block of West Main about 6:13 p.m. Monday.

Police surmised the truck, a Dodge pickup which had been left parked on the lot by its owner who is not expected to return for several days, apparently rolled backwards into the left front door of a 1957 Ford, owned by Nelson W. Botcher, 27, 1618 East 12th.

Two persons received apparently minor injuries in a head-on crash on a one lane bridge, 2.7 miles south of Syracuse on Morgan County D, about 6 p.m. Monday.

The injured, according to the Highway Patrol Troop F headquarters, Jefferson City, were Eugene Edwards, 47, Stover, a bruised forehead, and Ralph Braden, 33, Stover, a bruised left leg. Neither received immediate medical attention, according to the patrol.

Involved in the accident were a southbound 1958 Chevrolet driven by Raymond S. Salmons, 26, Versailles, and a 1960 Chevrolet driven north by James U. Rastorter, 58, Stover. The two injured men were passengers in the Rastorter car.

Damage to each vehicle was listed as $250 by the patrol.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Since you fancy yourself as infallible, this letter may come as a real blow. You have erred.

A flabby handshake—you called it a "dead fish"—does not necessarily mean the person lacks enthusiasm or interest. Sometimes it simply means the poor guy has arthritis. I know because for years I've suffered with the problem, and it's an affliction I wouldn't wish on the devil himself.

So 10 lashes with a wet noodle to you, foals. This one was a first-class blooper. — DON'T SHAKE, JUST NOD.

Dear Don't Shake: My sincere apologies to you and to all others who are similarly afflicted. I had no idea so many people suffer from arthritis in their hands. I think I heard from most of them. I contritely accept the 10 lashes. And now, let's shake hands and be friends. Pardon me—we'll just nod.

Dear Ann Landers: Has the time come for me to roll the skeleton out of the closet and tell my children their father was a skunk? He has been dead 15 years, and because I have kept his halo shining his children believe he was a saint.

True, he was good to his family, but the man was immoral to the core. I put up with one love affair after another—even an out-of-wedlock child whom he quietly supported.

I'm now going with a man who would be an ideal husband for my sunset years. We plan to marry in 1966 when we both retire. Until then we must settle for visiting one another. When I go to his city I stay with him (in his apartment) because I can't afford a hotel.

Two of my children have stopped talking to me because of this love affair. The others are turning mighty cool. They feel my behavior is indecent. When my oldest son said, "What do you think dad would say about this?" I was tempted to unload the whole story then and there. Would I be justified? — KEEPER OF THE CLOSET KEYS.

Dear Keeper: Sorry, Mother, but throwing rotten eggs at your husband's tombstone after keeping it neatly polished for 15 years will not justify your own conduct in the eyes of your children.

You say you can't afford to stay in a hotel. I say, if you want the respect of your family—or anyone else—you can't afford NOT to afford to stay in a hotel.

Dear Ann Landers: I think you

Info in Mailbag Reveals Growing Hunger for Meat

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Americans now eat more than their own weight in red meats each year. The average of 1963 is expected to pass 166 pounds.

Prosperity note: The United States has about two-thirds of the world's motor vehicles.

Odd legislation: Iceland passed a law requiring all children to learn to swim.

An awful lotta water: The Pacific Ocean is so huge that all the continents would easily fit into its 63.8 million square miles.

Incidentally, we use about 3 million pounds of water per person annually.

Worth remembering: Comedienne Marion Powers says that today inflation is simply a drop in the buck.

Divided city: Despite the wall that keeps 53,000 East Berlin workers from their jobs in the Allied-occupied part of the city, West Berlin is still Germany's highest industrial center. It produces one of every two light bulbs used in that nation, every second cigarette, and every third dress bought in Germany.

Nature notes: Rattlesnakes are found in every mainland state except Maine and possibly Delaware. Alligators don't count their calories—but during six or seven months of the year they usually don't eat. One survey showed that 43 per cent of chickens lay their eggs between 9 and 11 a.m.

Woman's work is getting easier all the time. Someone has figured out that only 30 per cent of

A Safety Rule Overlooked

Those who haven't already planned some outing for the Labor Day weekend probably are right now thinking up some means of relaxation that will take them onto the highways.

How many of those persons will join the tragic list which up to August 1 in Missouri alone recorded 601 killed, an increase of 17 per cent over a year ago.

One shudders to contemplate the results of the Labor Day weekend when the sickening Fourth of July toll is recalled; that July was the most deadly month on Missouri streets and highways in almost seven years; that July became the third month this year for the traffic toll to soar over 100 fatalities. Nationally the results are just as sad.

Every motorist will agree this is a disgrace to any civilized nation, particularly since most of the carnage should never have happened. Admittedly, there are some accidents which are just that—accidents, fateful, in the lexicon of some. But most of them are not.

All sorts of rules for safety on the road can be compiled. They'd fill a hundred pages in a book but mainly they are related to such basic precautions as obeying traffic regulations in the simple faith that they have been enacted to protect the driver; reviving driver courtesy; substituting common sense for frenzy, and patience for wrath.

There will be no lessening of the perils on the highways if all drivers subscribe to the notion it is all a matter of fatalism, that their number is up and there's nothing they can do about it.

Someone has suggested that many lives could be saved, and injuries prevented, by adoption of just one safety rule — the Golden Rule.

Central Missourians who venture onto the highways this Labor Day weekend may be well advised to try this palliative.

Ancient Heritage In Rights March

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wednesday's civil rights march in Washington by perhaps 100,000 Negroes and whites—to protest racial injustices and to try to pressure Congress into passing a civil rights bill—has an ancient heritage.

From antiquity—by ones, twos, thousands, millions in fiction, fact, literature, mythology and religion—people through disobedience and non-violent resistance have asserted themselves against what they consider unjust treatment, laws, or edicts.

Yet, the history of their protests is full of contradictions and ironies.

Erich Fromm looks upon the first act of disobedience by Adam and Eve, in eating from the forbidden tree of knowledge, as an "original sin" which, instead of corrupting man, "set him free to become fully human."

Four hundred years before Christ, Socrates defied the government of Athens by refusing to stop encouraging the youth to question the ideas of their elders. While it was wrong to disobey a superior, he said, he would obey the gods rather than the government. He was sentenced to death.

Then he refused to escape his death cell. To do that, he said, after he had been condemned, would injure the government.

It was civil disobedience, but non-violent, when Sophocles' Antigone defied King Creon's order not to bury her mother. He walked her in to die for that.

And Aeschylus' Prometheus at terrible cost to himself befriended mankind by stealing fire from the gods. For this Zeus chained him to a rock for the vultures to gnaw on.

In the New Testament's Sermon on the Mount, Jesus, who had driven the money changers from the temple, preached non-violence with his admonition to turn the other cheek and walk two miles if anyone compelled you to walk one.

The ascetic Essenes, a sect of pre-Christian Jews, took an oath to injure no one. And after Christ thousands of Jews used non-violent resistance against the Romans. So did the early Christian martyrs although the Christians gradually moved from pacifism to the just war to the Crusades.

The Quakers, whom Merle Curti called the "conscience of the 18th century," were pacifists.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, in 1843, theorized on civil disobedience five years before his friend, Henry David Thoreau, did in his famous "Civil Disobedience" essay.

Thoreau had an effect on Leo Tolstoy and, later, on Mohandas Gandhi. Tolstoy went to extremes in his view of non-violence and civil disobedience. He made no exception for the use of violence by a man to defend his country, his life, his family or even to save society from lunatics and criminals. Because he looked upon all governments as immoral, he advocated paying no taxes at all.

It was Gandhi who achieved the most sensational results in history with his policy of non-violent resistance against the British to end their rule in India. Millions of Indians went along with him until they decided to get violent.

He acknowledged influences on him from all directions: the Sermon on the Mount; the Bhavad Gita, part of the Hindu epic which Gandhi called his spiritual reference book; Thoreau; Tolstoy; and even John Ruskin who urged the teaching of justice and gentleness.

But behind Gandhi's thinking was the long religious experience of India — Hinduism, with its peaceful acceptance of the caste system in this life as preparation for moving up to the next caste in the next life on earth and with its complicated prohibitions against doing violence to others; Jainism, which forbade killing anyone or thing and required the wearing of a gauze mask so insects wouldn't be inhaled and killed; and Buddhism, originally an ethic protest against Hindu religious practices, stressed love of others.

In the depression of 1894 Jacob S. Coxey, Ohio businessman, led an army of 400 unemployed to Washington to petition Congress to create jobs. In 1932 Congress ignored the army of unemployed veterans of World War I who came here to petition for a bonus. Those that stayed were driven out by the regular Army.

The Doctor Says

Everybody Should Have Shots Against Tetanus

By Wayne G. Brandstad, M.D.

You don't have to work around horses to be in danger of getting lockjaw or tetanus.

For those who have not had tetanus toxoid the threat exists in any deep wound into which dirt may have entered. This includes traffic accidents, third-degree burns, stepping on a nail, gunshot or stab wounds and even snake bites.

The older method of prevention was to give tetanus antitoxin. This amounted to borrowing an immunity previously developed in a horse.

This method has two disadvantages. It does not give as sure a protection as that built up by your own blood after tetanus toxoid and the horse serum may make you very sick if you are allergic to it. If you are not allergic, the injection of horse serum may make you allergic so that you will get sick from the next time you have to take it for any reason.

Tetanus toxoid has the advantage that, even though the immunity it stimulates in you may diminish after two or three years, it can be quickly restored at the time of an accident by means of a small booster shot. Because tetanus is such a deadly disease, because you never know when you may incur a potentially contaminated wound and because immunity can be so readily produced with toxoid, no one should deny himself or his family this protection.

If you have not had tetanus toxoid and are so unfortunate to get tetanus, your lot is not as hopeless as it once was, but even the successful treatment of this disease is a poor substitute for proper immunization.

Your doctor can accomplish much by cleaning out the deepest recesses of your wound. Antibiotics have been shown to give some added protection. And then there is a new approach to the treatment of tetanus that has received a lot of publicity.

A farmer in Illinois was admitted to a hospital with a severe attack. In spite of the usual treatment he grew steadily worse and when his doctors were about to give him up for lost one of them remembered that the life of a patient in Holland with another disease had been saved by treatment in a compression chamber of the type used to treat divers who developed the bends.

The two diseases are both caused by germs that grow only in the complete absence of oxygen. A chamber was found and the farmer and two of his four doctors were placed in it. It was sealed and the oxygen content of its atmosphere was raised from the normal 16 per cent to 50 per cent. Furthermore, the pressure was raised from 15 pounds per square inch to 44 pounds. This brought a high concentration of oxygen to the victim's blood and tissues and in conjunction with the other treatment he had re-

Conservation Commission Awaiting New Building

In its more than a quarter century of existence, the Missouri Conservation Commission has never had a building of its own; instead, like many individuals, it has put aside a certain amount annually to pay for a "home" of its own.

The commission now has an architect who is busy working up plans for a new state building to house the offices now being rented in the Farm Bureau building in Jefferson City. The present offices appear to be inadequate. Unlike most state agencies, the Conservation Commission receives a relatively small amount of its funds from state money, with an appropriation of only $140,000 from general revenues.

Most of the money taken in by the commission is derived from fees paid by Missouri sportsmen. In fact, out of over $5,000,000 the $140,000 from general revenue funds is the only portion not provided by hunters and fishermen in some form or another.

The federal government also gives the commission money — around $700,000, but this, also, originated with the sportsmen. It represents a refund of excise taxes and is paid to the state proportionately with other states and on a matching basis.

To employees of the commission, the name "Conservation Commission," appears to be a misnomer. Actually, said one staff member, "We are more managers of the states natural resources than we are conservators."

Every county in Missouri is afected in some way by the commission because of its diverse nature. Not only does it supervise hunting and fishing, but it is charged with maintaining the state's forest resources.

The commission is operated under a simple philosophy: To grant all possible recreational opportunities consistent with good wildlife management.

And, the commission's staff feels Missouri is second to none in its wildlife management program as well as the overall conservation picture. In fact, it is said that many states are using the constitutional amendment (1936) setting up Missouri's commission as a model for their own programs.

At one time in the state's past, prior to when the white man settled here, there were some 30 million acres of forests in Missouri. Today there are only 15 million acres. Despite this sharp reduction, conservation officials indicate, the deer population, estimated at 250,000, is in better condition today than in pre-settler times.

The deer is so abundant that last year the commission set a season permitting the taking of any deer, either doe or buck, in all counties north of the Missouri River. In past seasons, the take was restricted to "bucks only."

It is through this type of versatile regulations that the commission is able to handle the increasing number of wildlife.

In effect, one official said, this allows the commission to act before an emergency situation, such as overpopulation, occurs.

Not a Chance to Scratch

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Ever hear of a chickenpox nightshirt? Well, I just made one for my 2-year-old son. It takes two diapers and a few minutes at the sewing machine. I laid two gauze diapers together lengthwise and sewed seams to make a short kimono-shaped garment. This is like a big "T" with space left at the center top for the head to go through. The hands are sewed shut. After stitching, I cut it down the center back and hemmed the two edges. Using the cut-away material from the diapers, I made four long thin strips and sewed to the hemmed back for ties. The hands are inside the shirt sleeves so the child can't scratch at night and cause scars to form. — D. A.

DEAR POLLY — When knitting, it is often very hard to start the first row, after the stitches are cast on, without splitting the wool. I cast the needed number of stitches on both the knitting needles, held close together. When the stitches are on, withdraw one needle. This leaves enough space to work the first row with ease. Hope you will try this one. — M. S.

GIRLS — I did, M. S., and liked it would be quite a help for those who cast on very tightly. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Use an empty shoe box to powder your feet without getting powder on the rug or floor. Put one foot at a time into the box and powder. You will do a more thorough job and keep the floor clean. Keep the box covered when not in use and it is ready to tiptoe through the talcum whenever you wish. — S. K. B.

GIRLS — Would save powder, too. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When cleaning the floor mats in your car, use a damp sponge instead of a whisk broom. The sponge does not raise dust all over the car. It also picks up both dust and small pebbles and freshens the color of the mats. It does not make any difference whether you have carpeting or rubber mats.

To keep a meat cutting board from sliding around on the table or countertop, take rubber rings from two or three jars and glue to the bottom of the board. — BARRY

GIRLS — Another clever teenager who shows the home training he has been getting. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I am a bride of only 10 months and find the hints so helpful I want to pass on one of my own. I always keep a toothbrush handy when I iron. It makes an easy job of straightening fringe on tablecloths or napkins. Before I discovered this, my pretty fringed cloths stayed in the drawer because I dreaded ironing them. — MRS. S. W.

GIRLS — A stiff toothbrush would be good for "combing" fringe on bedspreads, etc. that may not need ironing. — POLLY

We the Women

The Schools Step In

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is mama doing these days?

Obviously, she isn't exercising her right and responsibility to teach her children how to dress properly, behave in a socially acceptable manner, and in general to act like young ladies and gentlemen.

If she were, schools wouldn't have to be making rules for the proper dress, make-up and hair styles for their students.

Yet many schools are being forced to take on what was once the job of mothers — seeing that young people arrive at school looking like students instead of beatniks or movie stars made up for the camera—Some wear skirts so short and sweaters so tight that school authorities consider them decidedly unladylike.

In Haverhill, Mass., for example, a dress code has been decided on by the Haverhill High School Student Council and approved by the Administrative Council, to take effect in September. It outlaws the improper dress for both boys and girls that mothers never should have let teenagers wear in the first place.

On the forbidden list for boys are such inappropriate-for-school clothes as peg style, tight-fitting trousers, soiled or wrinkled t-shirts, sneakers and sweatshirts.

The girls aren't to wear sneakers, skirt lengths above mid-knee, shorts, tight sweaters or skirts, or culottes. Nor will they be allowed to wear such extreme hair styles as beehives or wigs. Heavy make-up and eye shadow are "out," too.

The students at this school have been given lists of what isn't acceptable for school wear, so that they and their parents will know what is right and proper and what isn't.

But it's a black eye for mothers when schools have to step in and do what ought to be a mother's job.

Two Famous Washington Parades

By DREW PEARSON

Enroute Through Southern Europe—There's great interest in this part of the world in the U.S. racial problem, especially in the big Civil Rights March on Washington.

It recalls the fact that there have been two historic marches on Washington in this century, one of which I covered personally—the great Ku Klux Klan Parade up Pennsylvania Avenue in 1925 and the Bonus Army March of 1932.

Most people have forgotten the Klan parade, but a total of 25,000 members marched in hoods and full regalia on Aug. 8, 1925, with 10,000 members of their families on the sidelines.

The Klan was then in its heyday and 45 trains, carrying 600 Kleagles, arrived in Washington, together with auto caravans from as far away as Texas. Miles of barren land between Washington and Bethesda were set aside as camping ground, and, in some parts of the city, robed Klansmen took over traffic direction. The Klan secured a permit to parade, thereby halting all streetcar traffic, and also secured permission to use the Sylvan Theatre.

At that time, the Klan was more anti-Catholic than anti-Negro, and Rev. John Briggs of the Fifth Street Baptist Church stated that he saw "No reason why Protestants should not organize the same as other religious creeds." A huge cross eighty feet high was burned on the Virginia side of the Potomac, while a hooded speaker, later identified as J. H. Connaughton, proclaimed: "We have no fight with the Catholics. . . but the Catholics want to control the politics of this country."

Just as Negro leaders have been worried about violence during this march, so the Klan was worried about violence and took pains to prevent it. The Kleagles gave instructions to marchers: "Regardless of what happens, what is said to you from the sidewalks, keep your eyes on the man in front of you, never falter."

Ironically, tomorrow's marchers will probably follow the same advice as they stride down Pennsylvania Avenue.

Klansmen marched with hoods on. There was no disorder during the day, except that one Klansman got a $10 ticket for drunk driving, two small boys ran off with the tires of a Model T Ford, and Capt. Thomas Avant, head of the Protestant Knights of America, was arrested for inciting anti-Klan feeling.

Pathetic War Veterans
The Bonus Army March, seven years later, was not really a march. It was a pathetic assembly of ragged, out-of-work veterans of World War I, some of them with families starving, who gradually drifted into Washington to exercise their right of petition and ask Congress for a war bonus.

I covered them every day. They were never unruly. They built little shacks on the Anacostia flats and lived in empty, condemned buildings along Constitution Avenue where the National Art Gallery is now located. The Hoover depression was deepening across the land and, with no work, they streamed into Washington until they totaled 25,000.

Their chief weapon was picketing—a right guaranteed by American custom and precedent. But the night and day parade of pickets in front of Congress got on the nerves of congressmen, also irritated Herbert Hoover. Finally he issued an order to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, then Chief of Staff, to throw the Bonus Army out.

I have never forgotten MacArthur in full uniform and battle ribbons, which he had sent over to Ft. Myer for, sitting in his command car near the Willard Hotel. A major named D. D. Eisenhower stood beside the car. Cavalry and Tanks

Four blocks down the avenue, six tanks, 600 infantrymen, and two troops of cavalry went into action. A Negro veteran seized a big American flag. "Oh Lord, who done made this country, come and save it now," he sang out, and paraded the flag in front of the cavalry.

Two troopers brought their sabres to salute. Others stood at attention. An officer gave a command. The Negro was ridden down.

Troops advanced, their bayonets fixed. Spectators booed. The troops hurled tear gas. Veterans ran from the dilapidated buildings. The cavalry charged. The veterans hurled taunts: "Bring on Bismarck!" "Hoover's Cossacks!" "Where were you during the Argonne?"

One cavalryman whirled, came down with his sabre. A veteran's ear fell off.

It was all over in a few minutes. There was barely time for General MacArthur to pose for the photographers.

After it was all over, I attended a press conference in MacArthur's office.

"I have entered villages in wartime which have been in the grip of the enemy for three years," he said, striding up and down the room. "And I know what gratitude means. But never have I seen a people so grateful as the liberated people of Washington today."

So ended the second so-called "March on Washington."

"Thanks—we were happy to be here. Edgar finds you so relaxing!"

Paris Fashions Plentiful

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP)—Paris fashion designers offer a wealth of trends, in beautiful fabrics and striking colors, for fall and winter.

The to-each-his-own approach, as shown in photographs released today, means there is something for everyone—from the conservative follow-fashion dresser to the nonconformist rebel. Soon the styles will be adapted to the American market—for a fraction of the Paris prices.

One important trend is the generalized look for winter, in a mufflered-out look for winter, in a general antifreeze campaign the entire couture endorsed. Collars climb up to the eyes, bypassing chin and nose. Necklines are cowled, hooded, scarved or swathed in fur or fabric stoles and high windshield collars. Topcoats are easy, roomy, square-shouldered and spell winter comfort.

The showings were the biggest fur stories in years. Included were many fur trimmings on suits for day and evening displayed by such houses as Heim, Chanel, Saint Laurent and Griffe.

Most styles shown for day in soft mohairs and tweed plaids, checks and herringbones, also appear in evening wear in deluxe silks, velvets and brocades—among the best French manufacturers have produced.

For evening jeweled and beaded embroidery is all-important. Feathers are integrated and add a touch of fantasy. Bird plumage colors were shown for sports.

The luxury look is for after dark, and in hostess gowns in fabrics ranging from sports weaves to cut velvets and chiffons. Among them are Boldini's flowing princess line and an Edwardian line.

Tongue-in-cheek, Saint-Laurent set an audacious new pace. Robin Hood comes to life in leather or suede printed jersey, mid-thigh-top boots and a quilted hat. These run all through the collection in tweed, velvet or fur.

One of the season's important features is the return of sleeves. Batwing sleeves are at Cardin's for every hour, from tweed to chiffon. At Saint-Laurent's they are tight-fitting and jeweled for evening. Laroche does them in fur on tweed suits and so does Lanvin. Ricci uses fur sleeves in wool coats.

Fabrics and colors lend the excitement to a carefully studied silhouette. Mosaic cameos checked by Asher, firm mohair, tweeds and weaves by Besson, blended shades in king-sized plaids and houndstooth lend quality and beauty to the winter scene.

Abstract jewelry, gold chains, feathers, new hair styles and new shoes complete the fall and winter collections.

Federal Land Bank Groups Hold Meeting

The directors and managers of Federal Land Bank Associations in this area in Missouri met with officers of the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis at Columbia in Tiger Hotel on Aug. 20, 1963.

William A. Dickson, president, emphasized the excellent progress made in recent years in building financially strong Federal land bank associations. To adequately serve the long-term credit needs of farmers, maintain leadership and set the standards in the field of farm mortgage credit requires strong, active associations, Dickson said.

Perry B. Edde, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sedalia, stated that this association has $3,338,852 in outstanding loans compared with $3,010,051 in outstanding loan volume a year ago.

The directors of the association are: Hillard L. Smith, of Booneville; Joseph B. Oligschlaeger, of Route 1, Tipton; D. L. Kauffman, of Versailles; Frank B. VanDyke, of Route 1, Smithton and John W. Rissler, of Route 2, Sedalia.

The Sedalia Association serves Benton, Cooper, Moniteau, Morgan, and Pettis counties.

30 Helicopters Will Shuttle Army Troops If March Is Rowdy

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 30 helicopters will arrive from Ft. Bragg, N.C. today to provide rapid airlift for troops if needed in connection with the march on Washington Wednesday.

The helicopters will carry no troops from Ft. Bragg, an Army spokesman said.

The Defense Department announced last week that about 3,000 Army and Marine troops would be moved into this area from Ft. Meade, Md., and Ft. Belvoir and the Quantico Marine Base, Va., Wednesday.

These are in addition to about 1,000 troops normally stationed in or close to Washington.

Seeking Cause Of Air Crash By Two B17's

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—With the body of the last victim finally discovered, the Air Force is conducting another kind of search—for the cause—in the Aug. 19 collision of two bombers that killed three airmen.

The body of Capt. Leonard A. Theis, 29, of San Fernando, Calif., was found Monday 2 1/2 miles southeast of Irwin, Iowa. Up to 500 searchers had combed pastures and cornfields for the body since the B47 medium jet bombers collided, crashed and burned a week earlier.

Also killed were Lt. Col. William W. Thomas, 44, Syracuse, N. Y., and Capt. Peter J. Macchese, 29, Belleville, N. J.

Survivors are Capt. Richard M. Smiley, Arlington, Kan.; Capt. Alan M. Ramsey Jr., Bainbridge, Ga., and Capt. Richard M. Snowden, Clarkston, Wash.

A spokesman at Offutt Air Force Base said the search was concentrated southwest of Irwin where an unopened parachute and some of Theis' personal items had been found. There was speculation that Theis had been whisked out of the plane, probably when the cabin canopy was jettisoned after the collision. The planes were on

Fourth Dodger Loss

Cincy Reds Survive Test In Victory Over Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Wanted: Man to join first-rate firm. Short hours. Good salary. Bonus in October if successful. Only requirement—must have bat with base hits. Call collect, Walt Alston, Los Angeles Dodgers. HURRY.

There's no doubt that's the Dodgers' big need.

Jim O'Toole again emphasized the fact Monday night, holding the National League leaders to a mere five hits as the Cincinnati Reds survived a two-men-on-the-same-base situation and posted a 3-1 victory.

It was the Dodgers fourth loss in the last five games, and trimmed their lead to 5½ games over second-place St. Louis. Los Angeles now has managed to score only four runs in the last 35 innings and collected just 36 hits in five games.

The only Dodger regular hitting over .300 is Tommy Davis, the defending batting champion who is stroking away at a .328 clip. No Dodger is among the leaders in home runs or runs batted in and collectively the team is hitting a meek .250.

The Reds pulled a page from the Dodgers' book and wound up with two men on second base in the sixth inning after Vada Pinson singled and Frank Robinson walked. Pinson was picked off, and in the rundown, both runners stood staring at each other on second. Robinson was ruled out.

The Cardinals, took the runner-up spot by beating San Francisco 6-3, dropping the Giants to third, 6½ back, and preventing Juan Marichal from posting his 20th victory. Milwaukee whipped Houston 11-7 in the only other game scheduled.

In the only American League action, second-place Minnesota remained 11½ games behind the New York Yankees by splitting a two-night doubleheader with Washington. The Twins won 5-2 on consecutive seventh inning homers by Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison before the Senators took the nightcap 7-3 as Dick Phillips drove in four runs.

O'Toole, 16-11, had lost eight of his last 10 decisions, but got the only runs he needed when Gordy Coleman tagged Don Drysdale, 16-15, for a two-run homer in the fourth inning. The Dodgers scored in the bottom half on a double by Willie Davis and a single by Tommy Davis, but that was it. The Reds final run crossed in the eighth when Tommy Harper raced home from first base on a single by Pinson.

The Cardinals won with a three-run ninth inning uprising against

Late Inning Offense Good For Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Louis for the third time used a late inning offense to upend the Giants 6-3, Monday in San Francisco. The Cards have beaten the Giants 10 times in 16 games, including the last five in a row.

As a result, second place St. Louis is a game ahead of the Giants, but still 5½ games behind the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Kansas City travels to Baltimore for a game tonight after resting Monday. The A's Ed Rakow (8-8) will start against Dave McNally (6-5).

The Cardinal triumph was particularly bitter for the Giants as it came against 19-game winner Juan Marichal.

Marichal had a shutout through six innings and had allowed only one unearned run after seven.

Trailing, 2-1, on unearned runs off starter Ernie Broglio, George Altman homered with a man on in the eighth to put St. Louis in the lead for the first time.

The Giants tied the score in the bottom half of the frame.

Dick Groat, breaking an 0 for 20 string at bat, got the key hit of the day to drive in the leading marker in the ninth. Another run scored on Bill White's ground out and Ken Boyer singled home the final tally.

The Cardinals will send Curt Simmons (11-6) against the Giants and Jack Sanford (12-12) tonight.

Marichal, 19-7. A walk to Carl Sawatski and singles by Curt Flood and Dick Groat scored the tie-breaking run. The Giants had moved into a tie in the eighth on Felipe Alou's run-producing single after George Altman's two-run homer in the top of the inning put St. Louis ahead 3-2.

Ed Mathews, pinch hitter Don Dillard and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves while John Bateman hit an inside-the-park homer for the Colts. Dillard's shot in the fifth tied the score 6-6, then the Braves moved ahead to stay on Gene Oliver's sacrifice fly in the sixth inning.

The Senators pulled into a 2-2 tie in the opener on Chuck Hinton's two-run homer in the sixth, but in the seventh, Killebrew hit his 29th homer and Allison followed with his 27th. Both blows came off Ed Roebuck.

Phillips was the key in the nightcap, belting a two-run homer in the fourth, forcing in a run with a bases-loaded walk in the fifth and collecting another RBI with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. Allison, Don Mincher and Jimmie Hall homered for the Twins.

Ralston Could Bring Back Tennis Prestige To the US

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—If tempestuous Dennis Ralston can adequately demonstrate that he's grown from a Peck's Bad Boy to an angry young man the United States may be on the way toward regaining its long-lost tennis prestige.

The acid test of the 21-year-old Californian with checkered tennis past begins Wednesday on the carefully manicured courts of Forest Hills' West Side Tennis Club in the U.S. National Singles championships.

Ralston, the rangy stylist from Bakersfield, is seeded third behind bounding Chuck McKinley, the Wimbledon champion from San Antonio, Tex., and Australian Roy Emerson, the Australian and French champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico is seeded fourth.

The tourney proper begins Friday, but qualification eliminations for the huge field of 224 players, including more than 100 foreign champions, open Wednesday with 64 men competing for 16 spots in the championship bracket of 128.

The pressure is squarely on Ralston, not only to demonstrate his maturity—and with it the ability to channel his temper toward demolishing opponents instead of throwing rackets—but also to solidify American hopes of again becoming an international tennis power.

Ralston was regarded as one of the country's most promising players a few years ago, then drew a year's suspension for his temper tantrums on the court during Davis Cup eliminations.

He re-emerged as potentially one of the world's best in a spectacular display against Mexico in American Zone Davis Cup semi-finals two weeks ago in Los Angeles. He beat both his Southern California roommate, Osuna, and Antonio Palafox and teamed with McKinley in beating the Mexicans who hold the Wimbledon doubles title.

Then, last week, he again teamed with McKinley in sweeping the U.S. National doubles title at Brookline, Mass., a strong indication that the U.S. doubles team may be able to compete in equal footing with the world-dominant Australians.

McKinley is generally regarded as the world's No. 1 singles player, particularly since Emerson has played erratically since winning the Australian title in Jan. But if the United States is to make a successful challenge to Australia — providing the American Davis Cup team gets that far — in the Challenge Round, it must have a strong No. 2 singles player.

That's where Ralston comes in. Forest Hills is his proving ground. He is in the same bracket with British Davis Cupper Roger Taylor, India's Primiti Lal and Ken Fletcher of Australia. Opposing McKinley in his bracket are Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Orlando Zuleta of Ecuador and Donald Dell, Bethesda, Md., among others.

Margaret Smith of Australia is seeded first in a field of 96 women followed in order by Darlene Hard, Long Beach, Calif.; Billie Jean Moffitt, also Long Beach, and Maria Bueno of Brazil.

Temporary Restraint Order on Sales Law

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Jackson County Circuit Court has granted a temporary restraining order barring enforcement of the new Missouri Sunday-closing law, scheduled to go into effect Oct. 13.

It prohibits the Sunday sale of certain articles starting on that date. A hearing on a permanent injunction was set for Sept. 5. The order was requested by Katz Drug Co. and is directed against Prosecutor Lawrence F. Gepford.

The new law was passed in May. Its legality was upheld in St. Louis by Circuit Judge George E. Schaaf in a similar suit filed by GEM Stores Inc. in July. The decision has been appealed to the Missouri Supreme Court.

The law was described as unconstitutional, vague, indefinite and uncertain in the Katz petition. The company said the law would deprive the public of necessary items and hurt its business. Judge Joe W. McQueen granted the temporary order.

Bitterness From Brawl Linger

NEW YORK (AP) — Many laughs and several funny stories emanated from last Wednesday night's Cleveland-New York brawl at Yankee Stadium but some bitterness lingers, too.

The Yankees' Joe Pepitone and the Indians' Fred Whitfield, among the chief combatants in the melee precipitated by a bean-ball between the rival pitchers, were kidding about it the following afternoon but Manager Birdie Tebbets of Cleveland indicated not everybody is laughing.

Certainly not Larry Brown, the Indians' rookie shortstop, who needed four stitches to close up a spike wound on the heel of his left foot. Nor Dick Howser, Brown's injured predecessor, who suffered a much less serious spike wound.

"Such fights cast a long shadow," said Tebbets, who majored in psychology while at Providence College. "Some scars take a long time to heal."

"I think the Yankees were silly to get into a fuss with us. They're winning and have nothing to gain by it. Our guys are not likely to forget it."

"Nothing may come of it for awhile. But some day, some year, at an appropriate time, they'll remember and it could prove costly to the Yankees."

On the lighter side is Yankee Manager Ralph Houk's recounting an incident that took place during the heat of the scuffle. Houk had run out to protect Pepitone who seemed to be more than holding his own against Whitfield.

"Next thing I know I'm on the ground, on top of this guy in gray flannel, wearing No. 12," said Houk, an ex-Ranger who is generally regarded as one who can take care of himself with words or fists.

"Who the hell do you think I am," replied Held.

"I got off quickly. Woodie and I have been friends for years. Then I start looking for my hat. Where do you think it is? On Held's head."

Yogi Berra, who rarely allows himself to become involved in such disputes, almost got into this one.

"I look up and see big Joe Adcock with his huge arms around our Phil Linz. He's holding Linz about shoulder high with Linz kicking his feet in the air but going nowhere."

"Ain't you ashamed of yourself, picking on a little guy like that?" I shouted to Adcock.

"You're right, Yogi," he yelled back. "I think I'll let him go and go after you."

"No, no, Joe," I said. "You stay right where you are. We're both doing all right the way we are."

Colts Ready For Starting At Du Quoin

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — The highly regarded filly Cheer Honey and B. F. Coalton — second unofficial choices in the Hambletonian — were undergoing treatment with medicated oxygen but were considered sure starters for Wednesday's premier stake for 3-year-old trotters.

The field of 10 colts and 4 fillies, headed by the 2-5 favorite Speedy Scot, appeared ready for the $115,549 Kentucky Derby of harness racing. The only question before the first mile heat at the fast, betless Du Quoin mile oval goes off at 2:30 p.m. EST, was whether little Joe O'Brien would be able to drive Star Act.

O'Brien, 46, winner of the Hambletonian in 1960 with Blaze Hanover and in 1955 with Scott Frost was on crutches with a knee injury. Of more vital concern was a badly sprained right wrist.

He was hurt in a spill a week ago at Chicago's Sportsman's Park.

He was not expected to decide until Wednesday morning whether he could drive Star Act.

Cheer Honey, the 2-year-old filly trotting champion of 1962 and winner of five out of eight starts this season, was about cured of a virus condition which hit her at Du Quoin last weekend.

Twice a day the daughter of Florican, with winnings of $113,014 has an improvised mask placed over her nose and breathes medicated oxygen mist for a half hour.

B. F. Coalton, who is 4-1 with Cherry Honey in unofficial odds, gets the same treatment. He has had a throat infection for a month but it is fully under control and the oxygen now is used more as a precaution.

Liston Might Battle Clay For the Title

MYSEN, Norway (AP)—Sonny Liston was so jovial he even staged a mock argument with his adviser, Jack Nilon.

The setting was a news conference following an exhibition by the world heavyweight champion in this southern Norway town Monday night. The question was how long it would take Liston to get in shape for a bout with former champion Ingemar Johansson.

The Liston-Nilon argument was whether it would take five days or six.

Johansson's name was one of three—Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson were the others—that were thrown at Liston as possible opponents.

He and Nilon admitted there had been some talk of a fight with Johansson, but that nothing was firm. They reversed their field on a Clay fight, but held out no hope for a future bout with Patterson.

"Ingemar told me personally that he is willing to fight Liston any time if the price is right," Nilon said. "I am going to confer with my brother when I get back to New York about the price."

Earlier in the United States Liston and Nilon said that all negotiations with Clay and his backers had broken down. They indicated Monday that negotiations were being held up, but hinted they would be receptive to further talks.

ABC Adds To List Of Medic Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—With the premier of ABC's "Breaking Point" on Sept. 16, television audiences will have access to 10 network hours of drama each week dedicated to the sick, sore, lame and disabled.

The statistic includes four returning evening shows, "Dr. Kildare," "Ben Casey," "The Eleventh Hour" and "The Nurses." There are also the afternoon agony series, "The Doctors" and "General Hospital."

It is axiomatic in television that one popular series spawns a rash of similar ones, but the question most often asked of "Breaking Point" producer George Lefferts these days is why a second series dedicated to exploring the labyrinths of mental and emotional illness, "Eleventh Hour," returning after a modestly successful NBC season, is staked out in exactly the same area—psychiatry and psychoanalysis.

Lefferts insists there is a need for still another series.

"I think such a series does perform a constructive social service," he explained. "We're not interested in effecting instant cures for dramatic effect. But we are moving in areas where problems exist for many people and simply exposing them—ventilating them—trying to give some insight of the dynamics of things that create unhappiness. All of course, in the hope that people can do something about it."

Besides which, he added, "there seems to be a consuming interest by the public in this kind of material."

NBC's "Eleventh Hour" last season ran into a barrage of complaints from psychiatrists and others in spite of having its scripts checked by an American Medical Association committee and the on-set consultant services of a Los Angeles psychiatrist.

"Breaking Point" has two AMA committees as advisors and, further, is having scripts and film checked by the staff of a local mental clinic.

Still, Lefferts realizes, within the field of psychiatry itself there are sharp differences of opinion about the treatment of mental diseases, so he expects some controversy.

"We try to hash out the problems with advisors," he said. "We are trying to exercise taste, judgment and caution. Obviously we don't want anyone leaping out a window after seeing a show. And there will be no mention of any lethal instruments. Anyway, we've been assured by psychiatrists that it is unlikely that anything a person could see on television would precipitate anything he would not have done in some form—anyway."

Move Woman Jockey To Garnett Hospital

GARNETT, Kan. (AP)—Mrs. Virginia David, a jockey who fractured her skull July 11 in a fall and has been in a coma since, has been transferred from Anthony, Kan., to a Garnett hospital.

Mrs. David, 21, began to swallow food about two weeks ago, although apparently unaware of her surroundings. She was injured in a fall at the Anthony race track.

Her mother said Mrs. David started having trouble swallowing food Monday and arrangements are being made to have her moved to the University of Kansas Medical Center. Her mother is Mrs. Harold Black of Burlington, Kan.

Disarmament Agency Official Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Franklin A. Long resigned Monday as assistant director of the disarmament agency, effective Aug. 30, to return to his teaching assignment at Cornell University.

President Kennedy, in accepting the resignation expressed "my personal gratitude for your contribution to the scientific understanding and development of several approaches to disarmament and especially for your outstanding contribution in the field of science to the test ban treaty."

Long is assistant agency director for science and technology.

Further Steps Set For School System

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va. (AP)—Further steps toward renewed free education for Prince Edward County's Negro children are expected to be taken tonight by trustees of the private organization which will operate a desegregated school system.

High on the trustees' agenda will be the hiring of a superintendent and teachers for the private schools.

About 1,700 Negroes in Prince Edward had no formal classroom instruction since 1959, when the county closed public schools to evade desegregation orders of federal courts. White children have attended private segregated schools.

Confidence Of Consumer Holds High

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A larger than usual pack of problems crowds the final week before Labor Day. The long weekend will start the fall season for many businesses and consumers.

But there is an offsetting bundle of firm statistics and high hopes.

This preholiday week will see another deadline in the long bubbling feud between the railroads and their operating unions over work rules and employment. Both this and the racial turmoil dramatized this week by the march on Washington hold potential threats to industry and citizens alike, if the issues aren't solved.

This week will see continuing arguments in Congress over the limited nuclear test ban treaty and the proposed tax on American purchases of foreign securities and the bill to cut individual and corporate income taxes. All affect phases of business planning and operations and go deeply into basic issues and problems ahead.

But in spite of all the strife and uncertainty this summer, consumer confidence apparently still holds high. And so does individual spending and business activity.

More persons plan to buy new houses and cars than did last spring, but fewer plan to buy household durable goods. The surveys are regarded as a guide to consumer confidence. Plans can change, but they do show how people are feeling about their own and the general economic outlook. For a current guide to consumer confidence the economists watch retail sales and housing starts.

Building has held high, with apartment houses accounting for most of the total increases in recent months.

Retail sales are well above a year ago.

The auto industry is expressing confidence that the new models coming out in the next few weeks will spark a third straight year of good sales.

In one section of the house durables market, the American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association reports that July factory sales of washers and dryers ran 9 per cent ahead of last year. Sales in the first seven months of 1963 topped the like period of 1962 by 8 per cent.

Both industrial production and personal incomes set records in July.

Retired Commander Attacks Test Ban

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Gen. George C. Kenney, retired commander of the strategic air command, attacked the proposed nuclear test ban treaty in an interview Monday as a dangerous agreement that would "be of benefit to Khrushchev, but not to us."

Kenney, president of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, was here to help a drive by the Kansas Chapter.

"This guy Khrushchev, I don't trust him, he never has kept his promises before," Kenney said. The General added that he feared the Senate would ratify the treaty, largely because the country has gotten panicky about fallout.

A BIRD? A PLANE?—Well, not exactly. It's the Wing Thing, a new ready-to-fly miniature flex-wing, which catches the attention of two boys as it takes to the air at the National Model Airplane Championships at Los Alamitos, Calif. The model, powered by a tiny glow-plug engine, is similar to the flexible wing device which will be used by Project Gemini astronauts to land their capsule after their journey in space.

Farmers Must Produce What Market Wants

WARRENSBURG, Mo. (AP)—Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, says the farmer to prosper "must produce what the market wants."

Shuman said Monday farmers fell into a trap of going to the government for help because they wanted to avoid the results of change.

He spoke at the 50th anniversary meeting of the Johnson County Farm Bureau, one of Missouri's oldest.

Shuman said farmers can gear their production to human needs simply by providing something people want.

Excess wheat, he said, is an example of something people don't want.

Second Try For Trial By Pavlick

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Richard Paul Pavlick, charged with threatening to kill President Kennedy nearly three years ago, has made a second effort to get a trial.

Judge William Becker of U.S. District Court took Pavlick's petition under advisement following a hearing Monday.

Pavlick, 76, a retired postal worker from Belmont, N. H., was arrested in West Palm Beach, Fla., while President-elect Kennedy was vacationing there Dec. 14, 1960.

Officers quoted Pavlick as saying he planned to crash his dynamite-laden car into Kennedy's car.

Since then he has been at the center in Springfield most of the time, awaiting a decision on whether he is mentally competent to stand trial.

Judge Becker ruled March 2, 1962, that Pavlick was competent, on a petition filed by Pavlick for a writ of habeas corpus.

Pavlick was sent back to Florida for trial, but a federal judge there decided he was incompetent, and he was returned to Springfield.

Monday's hearing was on the same kind of petition. Pavlick claimed he was a "political prisoner" and was entitled to an early trial.

His attorney said Pavlick probably would have been paroled by now if he had pleaded guilty in 1960, since the maximum sentence was six years.

Russell Millin, U.S. district attorney, said every psychiatrist who examined Pavlick decided he wasn't able to stand trial.

Judge Becker said Pavlick appeared competent in both appearances in the Missouri court. The judge noted that if the present impasse continues, Pavlick could be held at the medical center indefinitely.

Pavlick testified that a doctor at the center told him he would never be released as long as John F. Kennedy was President.

However, Life Editor Edward K. Thompson said in New York "we are still dickering."

Missing Boa Found Twined Around Pipe

Neighbors had been uneasy since Boots vanished, despite Tomkins' assurance that she was harmless. They looked forward to fall when Tomkins' son, John, says he will take Boots with him to the University of Oregon to be a fraternity mascot.

Miss Janice Kerschen Is Bride Of Mr. Wayne Buchheim in Aug.

Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Columbia, was the scene of the eleven o'clock morning wedding Saturday, Aug. 10, of Miss Janice Kerschen and Mr. Wayne Buchheim. The Rev. Fr. Stangle officiated.

Miss Kerschen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kerschen, Tipton, and Mr. Buchheim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Buchheim, Jacksonville, Ill.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white gown of French lace and tulle over taffeta. The slender lace bodice was designed with long tapered sleeves and a scalloped circle neckline edged with pearls. The flowing skirt front featured an insert of tulle trimmed with lace medallions. At the back, a cascade of lace tiers extended to a sweep train. Her headdress was a crown of pearls which held her elbow length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and pink roses.

Miss Janet Kerschen, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Sharon Sherman, Columbia, was bridesmaid. They wore daytime length dresses of heaven blue silk organza accented with shaped wrapped skirts and white embroidery detail. Their circlelets of silk illusion were caught by miniature roses and leaves. They carried white fans with feathered pink chrysanthemums.

Mr. Armando Villanueva, San Marcos, Tex., was best man. Groomsman was Mr. John Kerschen, brother of the bride. Ushers were Mr. Robert Jones and Mr. Clarence Hilderbrand.

The bride's mother wore a blue dress with matching blue and white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a green and white print dress with white accessories. Both wore white gardenia corsages.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta. The neckline was scooped, dipping in the back. The bouffant skirt was accented by a large cabbage rose at the waist. Her three-quarter length veil of French illusion was dropped from a headpiece of tiny seed pearls, forming a crown. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white carnations and yellow lace.

Mrs. Roy Bright, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow, two piece suit of arnel and a headpiece of a single cabbage rose, with a yellow net veil.
